Congressional News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The chair laid before the senate a resolution agreed to, calling upon the secretary of the treasury for any further correspondence in his department relating to the collection or postponement of the tax on distilled spirits.

Plumb's resolution, offered yesterday, requiring the president to advise the senate as to his views on the present status of the lands known as the Oklahoma lands, came up, but owing to Plumb's absence, Ingalls wished it to go over till to-morrow.

HOUSE.

Kelley, from the committee on ways and means, reported a bill to reduce export duties on manufactured tobacco inasmuch as large quantities of licorice, rum, paste sugar and alcohol enter into the manufacture of tobacco and upon these high duties are already paid by the manufacturers.

The house went into a committee of the whole on the Indian appropriation bill.

NOTES.

The following are the official instructions sent from the war department to General Auger, yesterday, regarding the course to be pursued with the Oklahoma invaders:

Brigadier General Auger, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas:

"In accordance with instructions from the secretary of war, the Lieutenant general directs you to be informed that the president's order for removal from the Indian territory of intruders therein is to be enforced. It is hoped it may be done without armed conflict, but the responsibility for any bloodshed must rest upon those who do not accept the warning of the proclamation by the president, July 1st, 1884, and attempt with arms to resist the troops ordered to compel their removal, in order that the mischievous influence of the leaders present at the intrusion to incite conflict may be reduced as much as possible, the military force should be increased so that all intruders may see the hopelessness of resistance. The Lieutenant general, therefore, directs that you will immediately reinforce Colonel Hatch by the remaining companies of the ninth cavalry, and also send him reinforcements from the tenth, twelfth and twenty-second infantry until the force he now has in hands shall be increased by 800 additional men. Acknowledge receipt."

(Signed) R. O. Davis, Adjutant.

A Bloody Wedding Dance.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 21.—Advices from Indian Territory note a bloody tragedy which occurred a few days ago near Webber's Falls. Colson Baldridge had been married and was celebrating the event with a dance at the house of a man named Davis. Whisky flowed freely and about midnight Baldridge was shot by an unknown person from the outside. Baldridge rushed to the door and fired three shots at the fleeing man and then dropped dead. A general melee followed, in which over fifty shots were fired, and when the riot quieted down, it was found that Jessie Butler, Jessie Smith, Ella Johnson, two Indian women and Joe Muskrat, an Indian, were wounded, one of them seriously. It is supposed that Baldridge was killed by a shot fired by Jessie Foreman, who Baldridge wounded some years ago while trying to arrest him.

Bringing the New York Gambling Houses to Time.

NEW YORK, January 20.—General Fitz John Porter, police commissioner, has been acquainting himself with the gambling dens of New York with a view to their suppression. He employed two detectives from Newark, N. J., to find out where the games were in operation, and paid the men out of his own pocket. Inspector Byrnes, of the detective force, with a large number of his men, raided a dozen downtown fashionable gambling houses to-night, and captured a large amount of contraband property in the shape of cards, checks, faro and other layouts. The many keepers of the houses had evidently been warned and were out of the reach of the officers.

Fatal Avalanche.

ROME, January 20.—News has been received that a village in the highlands of Piedmont and Savoy has been devastated by avalanches. Three villages in Piedmont, including the important village of Frassino have been buried under the avalanches from Piedmont mountains. The town of Charenton in France and the capitol department at Haute Marne, at the foot of the Vosges mountains, are partly overwhelmed by snow and many people there have been killed. Another fatal avalanche occurred at Sparone, on the Dora Bolter river, a few miles south of Irre. Fifteen persons were known to have been buried under the snow at Sparone. The villagers who have been made homeless, are in great distress and have appealed for relief from the royal treasury at Rome. Troops have been sent to assist the villagers.

The Lehigh Valley Road Financially.

PHILADELPHIA, January 20.—The stockholders of the Lehigh Valley railroad held their annual meeting today, at the general office of the company. President Wilbur's report of the operations of the road in 1884 showed that the coal tonnage for the year was, anthracite, 6,000,000 tons; bituminous, 58,000 tons; total, 6,058,000. The income from all sources, $10,186,000; operating expenses, $5,246,000; leaving $4,940,000, against which is charged the interest on the bonds, $2,057,000; dividends, $2,372,000 and interest on the floating debt, state taxes, less on Morris canal, etc., $473,000; in all $4,902,000; making the balance carried to credit, profit and loss, $37,000. The cash on hand is sufficient to pay the floating debt.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Elihu P. Wilbur; directors, Charles Hartshorn, Wm. L. Conynham, A. T. Fardee, Wm. A. Arrigham, George B. Markle, Robert H. Sayre, James I. Blakeslee, Joseph Patterson, Garrett B. Lindemann, John B. Felt, Robert A. Lamberton and John B. Garrett.

THEY FIGHT.

Sullivan and Ryan Exchange Blows Without Gloves and with but Little Effect.

A Strike Among the Coal Miners of Pennsylvania Demoralizes the Business.

Another Train Wreck in the West--The Death of Sister Theresa.

News Notes.

They Fight Off the Stage.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—It transpired to-day that before a division of the money was made yesterday at the Coleman house, Sullivan and Ryan struck each other and were only prevented by friends from a rough and tumble fight.

Sullivan sat for a long time with his head bowed about to his knees. Ryan walked in and then the war began. "I am sorry," said Ryan, "that the match did not come to a close." "So am I," said Sullivan. "I can whip you right now and here," said Ryan. "You are among your friends, but I want to teach you a lesson." "You can't," replied Sullivan.

"I am ready, put up your hands, John," said Ryan, and then he let his right out and planted a terrific blow on Sullivan's nose.

Sullivan, who was unprepared for the onslaught, let go his left hand but missed Ryan, and then he tried his right, but Ryan met him with a cross-counter in the region of the ribs, which made the Boston boy yield. At this juncture the backers interferred and put a stop to the whole thing, but not before, however, the furniture was destroyed.

Strike--Resumption.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 21.—There is a strike among the miners in the Neyendale coke regions. The men are resisting a reduction of 4 cents per ton on their wages. They have been receiving 30 cents per ton for mining and that is said to be the highest ever paid in the coke regions. That price is what has been given for gross weight. On the fifteenth of last month a reduction of 4 cents per ton was made and the men accepted the cut without a murmur. One of the operators then asked his men to work for 20 cents. This angered them and they struck. In this move they were followed by all the miners in that district, who demanded a return to 30 cents per ton. They say it is small enough price to ask a man to shovel five tons of coal into the car for a dollar aside from being compelled to dig it. There are 500 men idle. The nail factories of Zug & Co., Chase, Cook & Co., and Shomberger & Co., C. G. Hussey & Co., copper works have also started up in all departments.

Explosion in a Pork Packing House.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., January 20.—The lard-rendering tank in the pork packing house of J. E. Booge & Co. exploded this morning, tearing down that portion of the building. To our creditors:

Each note is to bear interest at 6 per cent. from the date when the claims are respectively due to parties holding our paper, indorsed or guaranteed by other persons, will receive some indorsement or guarantee on the extension of the notes to secure these notes, we deliver to any trustee or trustees that may be named by you, a mortgage covering all our real estate in Allegheny and Westmoreland counties; we also propose to make semi-annual reports to said trustees of the condition of our business, and if in their opinion it is impossible, without interfering with carrying on the business to anticipate any of the payments above named, they are to have authority to so direct. We also request the same extension of our individual liabilities on the same terms as above proposed to our partnership creditors; to secure them each of us will execute and deliver to the trustees a mortgage covering all of the sale of said real estate, to be applied first, to the payment of owners of debts, and the balance to partnership debts."

The statements were discussed at length and a committee of five appointed to examine into them more closely.

The committee retired, and after an absence of some time returned and reported favorably. It was then decided to take no final action until Thursday, the 29th inst., when another meeting will be held. In the meantime a thorough examination will be made by the committee, which was continued.

The greatest harmony prevailed and a disposition manifested by the creditors to grant the five years extension asked by the firms, and it is thought such action will be taken at the next meeting.

BEFORE THE BAR.

George Scott Indicted for Wrecking the Wabash Passenger Train at Prairie Switch.

George Scott was indicted by the grand jury to-day for wrecking the Wabash passenger train at Prairie Switch the night of Dec. 31. His bail was fixed at $2,000. The SENTINEL first published Scott's confession, and it was on the story then published that the grand jury returned a bill. He is charged with so obstructing and displacing the track as to cause a wreck and consequent loss of life.

The wife, mother, sister and brother of the prisoner are in the city and interviewed him at the jail. He went at their approach. His wife is quite a handsome woman and the prisoner so closely resembles his brother that it would be difficult to distinguish them apart. They were all present to-day when Scott was brought before O'Rourke and arraigned for trial.

Scott stood up before the bar of justice and pleaded guilty to the charge in the indictment. He then took the witness stand and stated the circumstances that led to the crime, substantially as printed in THE SENTINEL. He got into a gang of Logansport counterfeiters, took their money in exchange for $50 he loaned them. Then under threats of exposure he displaced the Wabash switch at their bidding, and as directed by one of the gang who came here the day before to show Scott how to do the job Scott was to get a share of the plunder from the robbery of the wrecked train and passengers by going to Topeka, Kas., later.

After reviewing the law and evidence, Judge O'Rourke sentenced Scott to thirteen years in the penitentiary. On hearing the sentence Scott jumped up and said he was insane when he displaced the rail and could prove it by Dr. Virgil. A messenger was at once sent for Dr. Virgil.

S. E. Sinclair and J. B. Harper appeared for Scott, while J. R. Bittinger appeared for the state.

Scott was raised in Aboit township, where his family lives.

He says: "I know I have been cured by Kidney-Wort."
